Response to Arguments

1 Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 2, 3, 5, 6, 8-33, 36-41, 53-55, 60, 61, 63, 71, 72 and 79-84 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

2. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 29-33, 60 and 61 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because claim 29-33, 60 and 61 recites an apparatus, which performs processing within a computer. However, Applicant fails to indicate what is done with the results after processing. It also appears to include executable instructions, which are Judiciary exception. Since there is no practical application recited by the claims, these claims are therefore non-statutory. See "interim guidelines." Section IV (B) and (C)

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 2, 3, 5, 6, 11, 8-28, 36-41, 53-55, 63, 71, 72 and 79-84 are allowed over prior art.

2. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: Although the prior art discloses a communication system path determination by utilizing system constraints, they fail to teach or suggest with respect to claims 5, 6, 11, 20, 37, 38, 39, wherein the at least one network path determination constraint is expressed in the form of program including one or more executable instructions, with respect to claim 18, determine whether the node is a tail-end, head-end or intermediate node, if it is determined that the node is a tail-end node, and at least one network path determination constraint has been satisfied, then signaling back to an upstream node of that path that the path is O.K., determining whether a strict-hop node is specified as a next node of an explicit path constraint, a loose-hop node is specified as a next node of an explicit path constraint or no node is specified as an explicit path constraint, if a strict-hop node is specified as a next node of an explicit path constraint, then applying each of the at least one network path determination constraint to an appropriate one of a link between the node and the strict-hop node, and the partial path defined, with respect to claim 36, if the tail-end node of the path is in a part of the network, the topology of which is not known by the node, then performing a constraint-based path determination to a next node selected from a group of nodes consisting of an area border node, an autonomous system gateway node to generate a partial path and forwarding the message carrying the at least one network path determination constraint to an adjacent downstream node on the partial path, with respect to claim 40, a traffic engineering database generated by the processing for generating wherein the path determination facility is further adapted to determine at least a part of a path based on contents of the traffic engineering database, at least one path constraint received from signaling facility, wherein the path determination facility cannot determine a complete constraint-based path to a specified tail-end node, then the path determination facility performs a constraint-based path determination to a next node selected from a group of nodes, with respect to claim 54 and 55, forwarding the message carrying the at least one network path determination constraint to an adjacent downstream node on the partial path, wherein the node is an intermediate node and wherein the act of performing a constraint-based path determination includes determining whether a link from the node to the next node specified in the first portion of the path satisfies the set of at least one constraint, and with respect to claim 72, path determination constraint is an executable instructions.

Conclusion

1. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
